To whom it may concern:

On my behalf and on the behalf of the whole CytoThreat project consortium I express our most sincere appreciations to RR&CO. Knowledge Centre Ltd. team for their highly professional support and collaboration in preparation of research proposal for the FP7-Environment-2010 call. Together we prepared an excellent proposal that has been selected for funding.

The RR&CO team is, as the member of the CytoThreat project consortium, responsible for the administrative-financial management. During the proposal preparation they were not only taking over the administrative and financial parts of the project, but supported all the partners with prompt responses to any questions and problems. It is notable that they understand the way the scientists and researchers are thinking and their suggestions importantly contributed to final excellent formulation of the whole proposal. Working with RR&CO team is a pleasure as they are able to establish comfortable and trustful collaborative atmosphere in which everything runs smoothly and efficiently.

The professional approach, high level of expertise and knowledge in preparation of European projects and the commitment of RR&CO team was without any doubt essential for the final success of the proposal, and I look forward to our future collaboration.

I recommend RR&CO without hesitation to any team or organisation with ambitions for excellence and success in the highly competitive area of research grants.

I would gladly answer any request for further information.

Sincerely,

Prof. dr. Metka Filipič
